

Human Skills for AI – Leadership Edition

Half-day intensive training – in-company, on-location

‘Lead the Change Before It Leads You’

With the EU AI Act now in force, every organization is responsible for safe and ethical AI use — and that responsibility starts at the top. Yet nearly half of companies have little trust in AI tools, often due to fear, uncertainty, and risk aversion. Right now, 67% of AI implementations fail because people aren’t engaged enough in the change process.

This high-impact half-day training gives leaders the tools, insight, and confidence to build trust, create psychological safety, and foster co-creation between people and AI.

Key Takeaways

- Shift from resistance to adaptability with a Growth Mindset
- Create the psychological safety every transformation needs
- Lead with vulnerability — without having all the answers

Because AI adoption isn’t just about technology — it’s about people. And it starts with you.
